

Women's Leadership Board continued involvement with director Mary Lambert:

On Tuesday, July 15 the Women's Leadership Board of the Harvard Kennedy School, along with Accenture, Business Roundtable, and the Creative Coalition, hosted a preview of the documentary "14 Women." The documentary is based on the 14 female senators in the 109th Congress, examining their decision to run for public office and how they balance their public service careers and family lives. At the event Senators Barbara Boxer of California, Barbara Mikulski of Maryland, Blanche Lincoln of Arkansas spoke to over 250 enthusiastic people who packed the room to preview the documentary.

Others in attendance were producers Nicole Boxer and Sharon Oreck; former Congresswoman Pat Schroeder who is now CEO of Association of American Publishers; Bill Green, Accenture CEO and Chairman; Liz Arky, Accenture Managing Director, Global Government Relations; Larry Burton, Executive Director to Business Roundtable; Robin Bronk, Executive Director of Creative Coalition.
